

THE DEBRECEN REVIEW

SCIENCE AND CULTURE

Quarterly of the Scientific Communities of Debrecen and the Region

VOL. XXVII. NO. 4.

NEW ISSUE

2019. IV.

CONTENTS

STUDIES

- Csaba Lévai*: “Monstrosities which horrify the human heart” (Violence as Treated in the American [1776] and the Hungarian [1849] Declaration of Independence)..... 371
- Dalma Dobszai – Péter Hegyi – Andrea Szentesi*: Translational Medicine 382
- Sándor Bodzás*: Designing and Analysing Cylindrical Gear-drives with Straight Cog Direction 391
- Ágnes Czövek*: The Fifth Polish Nobel Prize Winner in Literature: Olga Tokarczuk 405

FROM THE HISTORY OF CINEMATICS

- Zoltán Szabó*: The Perversity of Free Thought..... 408
- Elemér Szabó*: Calvin’s “Trace”: An account of a visual anthropological research, or the story of shooting an anthropological documentary film 418
- Emil Hutau*: Gems of the Malter Festival 431
- Balázs Szűk*: Motion Pictures from the Lowland 2000–2019..... 439
- Gábor Beretvás*: An Underground Film Maker from Debrecen (A conversation with József Pólik)..... 453
- Fanni Feldmann*: “Gay Men Do Not Have Three Ears” (A round-table talk about Mára Takács’s film Gay Men in Cold Dictatorships)..... 462
- Zsolt Győri*: Experimental Ghosts: A Conversation with Péter Lichter 470

BOOK REVIEWS

- Gender and Ethnic Spaces in Hungarian Film (György Kalmár, Zsolt Győri, Eds.) (Petra Visnyei) 480
- The Presence and Future of Russian Literature: A Collective Monograph (Ed. József Goretity) (Ferenc Debreceni) 485
- Narine Agbarjan: Three Apples from the Sky (Regina Kóti) 488
- Balázs Venkovits Balázs: “At Home We are Deceived”: Hungarian Travellers and Emigrants in Mexico in the Second Half of the 19th Century (Zsolt Virágos) 492
- Authors of This Issue*..... 497
- Contents* 498